Dear Ms.Smollen:

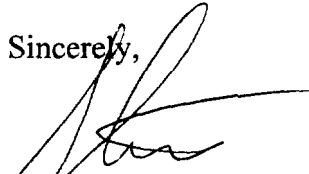

Thank you very much for meeting with Bob Keller and me on February 25, 1998, to discuss matters involving the administration of toll free telephone numbers.

I realize you are incredibly busy, and respect all the more the time you were able to spend with us. During our meeting, we asked you to delay implementation of 877 numbers for the following reasons:

- This will give the Commission time to carefully evaluate and analyze significant alternatives now before the Commission, including our "Enterprise Solution".
- We also asked that the Commission recognize the interest many businesses have in their toll free numbers.
- We asked you to immediately give all businesses with "888 Set-Asides" the right of first refusal for installation of those numbers.
- We expressed concerns about the fundamental conflict of interest long-distance carriers face as members of SNAC, RespOrgs, Subscribers, and as for-profit businesses who must also represent shareholder interests.
- Finally, we expressed our support for the positions expressed by the Office of Advocacy, Small Business Administration, on these matters as well as those of brokering and hoarding.

Thank you, again, for your interest in our views.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Dixon:

I realize you are incredibly busy, and respect all the more the time you were able to spend with us. During our meeting, we asked you to delay implementation of 877 numbers for the following reasons:

- This will give the Commission time to carefully evaluate and analyze significant alternatives now before the Commission, including our "Enterprise Solution".
- We also asked that the Commission recognize the interest many businesses have in their toll free numbers.
- We asked you to immediately give all businesses with "888 Set-Asides" the right of first refusal for installation of those numbers.
- We expressed concerns about the fundamental conflict of interest long-distance carriers face as members of SNAC, RespOrgs, Subscribers, and as for-profit businesses who must also represent shareholder interests.
- Finally, we expressed our support for the positions expressed by the Office of Advocacy, Small Business Administration, on these matters as well as those of brokering and hoarding.

Thank you, again, for your interest in our views.

Sincerely,

Steve White
President
